Do you have growing kids? You know how much time they spend in the bathroom getting that last hair in perfect place for their special day. There is no need to have the kids wait for the bathroom ever again. The Easton solves their problem. They'll all be instantly near the bath of their choice so they can get ready all day if they want. And when they do emerge, they'll have lots of kid space with an oversize family room, breakfast room perfect for games, and extra wide lanai which you will want to connect to a pool right away. The well designed traffic pattern will also keep the children away from your more formal areas, except when they are on their very best behavior.
